

Advanced Leadership Programme for Chartered Accountants

3rd Batch of 5 days Residential Programme at IIM Ahmedabad

Date: 7th October - 11th October, 2019
Venue- Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad

In a globalised business environment, challenges and opportunities have undergone a swift change, bringing along with it an imminent need for the Chartered Accountants around the world to upgrade their skills. Since the industry and business is directly related to the accounting profession, it is natural that the profession realigns itself with the fast-changing economic scenario to take proactive measures. Leadership is a skill professionals need to cultivate in the context of team and task oriented goals. Leaders need to envisage the fast-paced changes in internal as well as external business environment and must demonstrate agility, accountability and complete ownership for the designated project/task.

- Imbibe leadership skills such as articulation, negotiation, conflict resolution, teambuilding and change management.
- Understand and incorporate the emerging concepts, technology and best practices to achieve operational excellence.
- Use management accounting and corporate finance tools to evaluate operational and strategic decisions.
- Understand need for effective leadership in order to focus towards growth and adaptability towards embracing change in terms of technology and processes.
- Imbibe and enhance Managerial Skills

Programme Highlights

- Leading professional service firms
- Leadership mind-set and growing practice
- Corporate governance & financial markets - recent developments
- Financial statement analysis from business decision perspective
- Firm Valuation and its impact on the market
- Risk Management
- Managerial Communication
- Service operations and management
- Macro-economic environment and perspectives
- Technology in the profession with practical utility (like Block chain, artificial intelligence etc.)

Target Participants

The Programme has been designed to equip Chartered Accountants more than 7 years of post-qualification experience in industry or practice with the necessary skill-set, tools and processes required to meet their professional challenges.

It particularly aims at accounting professionals who intend to assume strategic management positions requiring decision making and leadership skills coupled with technical expertise. The programme will provide insightful details into the processes to define problems, formalizing objectives, developing alternative courses of action and managing resources.

Pedagogy

The programme would entail classroom discussions as well as presentations from participants on real-life organizational issues. Faculty at IIMA tends to mix hands-on experience and exercises along with cases to achieve the desired objectives. These cases are drawn from across the world and are chosen to keep in mind the context, learning objectives and conceptual frameworks that need to be built into the programme.

The case method, involving a real-life situation, is the primary learning tool in this programme. These cases require the participant to look at the issue holistically and not from a functional perspective so that they look at the world as a business leader, not as a functional specialist.

Faculty
